SECTION I Is a record of the inscriptions on the tombstones and also includes the burial records of the cemetery association in ALPHABETICAL ORDER

OC in line with the name, to the right of the dates, means the graves are located in the "OLD CEMETERY", which lies immediately in back of the church.

The numerals to the right of the dates in line with the names refer to the number of the lot on the chart of the cemetery as prepared by SAMUEL BENTON LINTON, C.E., grandfather of Frances D. Matthews

* the asterick means there is additional information in Section II

SECTION II gives additional information on SOME OF THE DESCENDANTS of persons interred in this cemetery, taken from Family Bibles, Reunion Association Records, School Records and from the people themselves.

I ask to be pardoned if you find an error in my work. Some of the inscriptions on the tombstones are becoming illegible as the stones deteriorate. The names and dates in Section II are as accurate as they were when given to me by the descendants.

REBECCA ROGERS

The Gordon "branch" of the "Rogers Family Tree," began with the marriage of Rebecca, fourth child of Jonathan and Ann (Jones) Rogers to Joseph Gordon, son of John Gordon, a native of Scotland, who came to this country (U.S.) sometime during the Revolutionary War, settled near Downingtown, Pa., and later married Jane Downing, of an old-established family of that section. Joseph was born November 29, 1789, in Uwchlan Township, Chester Co., Pa. He married Rebecca Rogers, November 22, 1814. The marriage took place in Pikeland Friends Meeting House, near Kimberton, Pa. Rebecca died May 31st, 1829, and Joseph died February 28, 1875. After the death of Rebecca, Joseph married Ann Williamson, on October 11, 1832, who died March 25, 1857. All three were buried in the burying ground of Uwchlan Friends Meeting, where they had all been faithful attendants of the meeting.

An interesting item in connection with this wedding of Joseph and Rebecca, is the fact that the marriage certificate is still in the possession of one of the grandchildren, Rebecca Gordon, of Lionville, Pa., and is in a good state of preservation, bearing the signatures of sixty-one relatives and friends.

This branch of the family is also the grateful possessor of an old "Grandfather" Clock, once owned by Jonathan and Ann Rogers, and later by Joseph and Rebecca (Rogers) Gordon, until the death of Joseph, when it became the possession of his daughter, Jane, who passed it on to her brother, Jonathan; after his death it found a home with his son, Joseph, who died in 1935. The clock is now owned by Jay Gordon, of Phoenixville, a great-great-grandson of Jonathan and Ann Rogers, the original owners, as far as can be learned. It is supposed to be about 155 years old.

JOSEPH ROGERS

Joseph Rogers, fifth child of Jonathan and Ann Rogers, was born on August 20, 1788. He married Elizabeth Rees and settled on a farm in East Vincent, Chester County, Pa.

On May 9, 1834, this family of Rogers left their Pennsylvania home and set out in wagons for Indiana. They arrived at Pendleton one month later, on June 9. There they took up life upon their new farm.

Several years after he entered his new state, Joseph began the erection of a very fine large barn upon his new property. In a letter bearing the date February 7, 1836, written to his brother, Charles, relative to the manner of transmitting Joseph's share of the money from the sale of their father's East Vincent farm, Joseph tells about his plans for the barn.

He tells that he had intended "building a frame barn with frame stabling under," but now that he is to receive his share of his father's estate he decides upon "drawing stone and walling up stable high."

In this same letter, Joseph speaks of the "disadvantage of drawing our logs to the falls," because his neighbor, J. Thomas, "has not got his saw mill operating yet." Another set-back encountered in "cutting and drawing logs" for the barn is related in the account of how "the old gray mare lay down and died."

That Joseph was not lacking in a sense of humor is noticed in the letter where he described his improvised log wagon. He states that he "borrowed the fore part of brother

Benjamin's wagon" and put his own "four wheels on the hind Oxeltree." He says, "It makes a tolerable log wagon," but, "it is something for the people to stare at here." In a very human way Joseph tells in the same letter how he was caught in a sudden rain as he "went down Fall Creek about four miles to look for a stone mason." On this trip he records his purchase of a yoke of oxen for fifty dollars.

The information concerning the building of the "Big Barn," as it is still called, is especially interesting because the barn is still standing in a fine state of repair on what is known as the "Big Barn Farm" of Pendleton.

Joseph's son, Joseph Rees Rogers, married and with his wife, the former Sarah A. Hayes, lived upon the "Big Barn Farm" until he died in 1872, then one of Joseph Rees Rogers' seven children, all of whom loved this farm as their birthplace, took over the entire farm. This son, John, still lives there as the proud owner of the farm established by his grandfather.

Both Joseph Rogers and his wife, Elizabeth, like most of these early Rogers, were devout Quakers. They were regular in attendance at the Friends Meeting at Pendleton.

In 1838 Joseph Rogers died and his body now rests beside that of his wife, Elizabeth, who passed away in 1851, in the Friends Burying Ground at Pendleton, Indiana.
